

For Her Dress-Up Occasion

THIS season presents for the celebration of busy but fastidious mothers many ready-made frocks for little girls that will come up to their standards of good taste in choice of materials, in design and in workmanship. To start off with, there are everyday dresses in light-colored, plain materials, that have white lawn collars and cuffs. A thin white rick-rack is used to finish edges of belts or decorative bands on them, or the collars and cuffs are embroidered with thin silk or yarn flowers.

Besides these pretty cotton frocks there are bloomer suits made of black satin silk with yarn stitching in light colors for embellishment on collars, sleeves and sometimes as a touch to hems. They are very simply cut, much like the dress of colored serge shown at the left of the two girls above. This little frock may be taken as a first class example of models in colored and white organdy which this spring offers to meet dress-up occasions in the little girl's summer. With it a pretty frock of dotted Swiss adds its testimony to the value for the simplest designs in little girls' clothes. The last in match is another style.

feature worth considering. It has rivals in the most adorable and friv-olous of little sunbonnets, made of colored, organdy and trimmed with organdy flowers. They go a long way so far as being ornamental is concerned but, as a protection against the sun, may need to call in a distinctive parasol to help them out.

In gingham, cross bars and checks in small patterns appear to be favored with collars, cuffs, pockets and belts in plain chambray or collars and cuffs of white lawn. The two little misses pictured are correctly dressed with dainty white petticoats under their sheer dresses and footwear that is above criticism.

Hand-Painted Leather Belts. There are hand-painted leather belts as a finish to some of the new dress frocks.

To Finish Collars and Cuffs. Narrow piping and used to finish collars and cuffs.

S. A. PUTS BAN ON U. S. GOODS

(By Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, April 13.—American merchandise that has been refused by importers because of unfavorable exchange and the slump in world prices continues to pile up on the wharves in Buenos Aires. It is now estimated that the value of the goods lying in the warehouses and on the quays amounts to $50,000,000.

The warehouses under control of the customs house have long since overflowed to vacant lots and railroad sidings where valuable merchandise is heaped up, protected only by tarpaulins.

Passenger ships that must be unloaded immediately are forced to transfer their freight to lighters, while freight ships often are forced to wait several weeks in the roads before getting a berth from which to unload. In some instances it has taken as long as six weeks to get cargo discharged.

Sometimes a minister calls it preaching the gospel when he gives his own views on things.
